

Leavitt's freight is to go when he comes back from Kodak. Mr. Satchel's took a launch from Co.
for his personal stuff.

Excuse such a long letter, I haven't time for a short one.

It is not very likely we can do so, regardless the Chief Herder is there we could not statistics, probably, in the few hours the boat will be there - Of course, we'll do what we can. - We'll try to help the natives to get his goods disposed of if still have his all our own needs. -

We are sorry to have it rumored that you will not visit us this winter, but if you can be outside, we understand how inviting that prospect is - I wish you perfect fulfillment of all your anticipations.

Kind regards to Mrs. Shields -

The purser of the St. H. - wouldn't let Mr. Starns have any of the Govt's goods without signed vouchers for the lightage, Mr. H. wouldn't sign any voucher until he knew what he was signing for, the outcome of it was that the purser carried all the lightage & bills over to Dick Hall, a trader at Kotzebue - even the letter to the Government Teacher at Etah as turned over from him. - This Capot was very indignant because he had to lose so much time going to Kotzebue after manifests which had been turned over to R. Hall. - He had no bills to work from here, & altogether it had a hard proposition to get freight delivered, Mr. Olsen got the contract for all lightage into Kotzebue, but another river boat handled that freight easily. - The Su
